Dear Friends,

SUSAN KOZAK

EACH YEAR AT COMMUNITY CARE SERVICES (CCS), WE INCREASE THE NUMBER OF INDIVIDUALS SERVED AND THE LIVES THAT ARE TOUCHED.

In 2013, we provided 126,000 hours of support and services to more than 5,300 individuals and families in our community.

As we enter the second year of our strategic plan, we continue our commitment to the development and implementation of integrated health care, consumer-focused recovery services, and the provision of effective, evidence-based treatment. CCS continues involvement in the National Council for Community Behavioral Health's Trauma Informed Learning Community and we are well on our way in this transformational process (see story on page 12). During the past year, we have trained more than 70 percent of our clinical staff on at least one evidenced-based treatment. We continuously reach out for promising, new and innovative treatment models such as this one.

CCS also participated with Southeastern Michigan Community Alliance and Wayne State University in training and research related to the non-medication treatment for chronic pain and addiction. We will soon participate in collaboration with The University of Michigan in the implementation of new evidenced-based practices related to life goals and self care.

Mental illness and substance abuse are complex disorders and can affect all aspects of a person's life – from physical health, to housing, to social relationships. That is why CCS goes beyond providing basic psychiatric and substance abuse services.

Thanks to the generosity of our supporters – we were able to provide a fun and learning-filled children's camp (see story on page 11), laptops for our Supported Education graduates and care packages for the homeless. These are additional resources which support the recovery journey.

At CCS, we look forward to another year of challenges and progress. We do this work knowing that with the right treatment and services, hard work, and perseverance people with mental illness and substance use disorder can and do get better. We know because we experience it every day.

Thank you for your ongoing support.

Susan Kozak, Executive Director

About Community Care Services

Community Care Services (CCS) specializes in the outpatient treatment of mental health and substance use disorders by providing counseling services to both prevent and address these problems.

Working together, we develop a helpful, caring, and professional relationship with all our clients. Our professionals provide an extensive range of services for children, adults and families. The comprehensive evaluation and treatment services are specifically geared to meet the needs of individuals and families. We strive to remove barriers to healthcare and promote prevention, personal responsibility, interdisciplinary treatment, health education and collaboration with other community partners. We offer hope and help for a brighter future.

OUR HISTORY

CCS was established more than 30 years ago with the merger of two organizations – Six Area Coalition and Cornerstone Counseling. Today, Community Care Services' 124 staff members provide outpatient mental health and substance abuse services to 5,300 individuals and families annually. As a non-profit agency, CCS works to reduce the impact of substance abuse and mental illness in our community.

MISSION AND VISION

The mission of CCS is to improve lives by providing hope, building recovery, and fostering wellness within our communities. Community Care Services will be an innovative leader, providing community-based, integrated health and wellness programs and services.

OUR VALUES

- We believe in the value and worth of every person. We will treat everyone with dignity and respect by asking, listening, and honoring the individual.
- We believe in a positive culture. We understand, we care, and we are hopeful. We treat everyone - people we serve, family members, employees - with kindness, gentleness, hospitality, cheerfulness, and respect. We serve individuals in a positive way, even when the circumstances are challenging.
- We believe in the continuous quality improvement of staff and board through sharing, education, and information.
- We believe that our role in recovery is to help individuals develop satisfying, hopeful, and fulfilling lives in the community of their choice.
- We believe in supporting the whole person, mind, body, and spirit. Healthcare, supports, services, and treatments are integrated so all aspects of life are positive, productive, and balanced.
- We believe in providing access to quality healthcare services for all persons in our community.
- We believe in raising community awareness of issues and needs related to integrated health in order to reduce stigma.

FUNDING SOURCES

Community Care Services is a 501 (c)(3) health agency serving Wayne County. The organization is partially funded by the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Agency, Southeast Michigan Community Alliance, Gateway Community Health, and CareLink. Contributions to Community Care Services may be of benefit for your tax purposes. Each year we provide outpatient mental health and substance abuse services to 5,000 individuals and families. With offices in Lincoln Park, Taylor and Belleville, Community Care Services endeavors to reduce the impact of mental illness and substance abuse in all social strata of its communities. In many cases, we are also involved with meeting even more basic needs of the clients that we serve - food items, clothing, furniture or even a place to sleep at night. With the generous help from private individuals and businesses, Community Care Services has made great strides in caring for these needs as well.

OUR WOMEN’S INTENSIVE OUTPATIENT PROGRAM

Now 29 years old, Rachel can recall how she was first introduced to marijuana when she was eight years old and cocaine at 14. It was the norm for her household and her neighborhood. She desperately sought the attention of her parents, but never received it. Yelling and hitting was how Rachel perceived love during her childhood years.

“I really started to downspiral when I wanted to see why crack cocaine was so much more important to my child’s father than me and our baby,” explains Rachel. “That’s when I got addicted.”

She then went through a turbulent stage of being in and out of the court system and rehabilitation when she met Lynn Turk and Pam Stolz, social workers in Community Care Services’ then DayBreak Program, which is now the Women’s Intensive Outpatient Program (WIOP).

“I’ve had to repeat the program, but I graduated last year,” says Rachel. “This time I was tired of my old ways. I came in with an open mind to get the tools I needed, because when the courts threatened to take my daughter from me, I lost my confidence, too.”

Even Pam and Lynn knew Rachel was different when she entered the program in 2013. “We knew she had hit rock-bottom and was ready for change,” explains Turk. “The look in her eyes was different – it was one of determination.”

Rachel found that the program introduced her to people like her that had the same problems. “I watched them grow and they watched me grow. We didn’t shock anyone with our stories. There’s no judge. Everyone had been where I had been.”

She puts it very simply... “If you are tired of running and tired of living that lifestyle, there’s no hope out there and there’s hope here.”

Still Defying the Odds

DIAGNOSED IN HIS MOTHER'S WOMB WITH TRISOMY 18*, SAMUEL OVERCAME THE ODDS ON HIS FIRST DAY OF LIFE – HE LIVED.

Fast forward 10 years, this vivacious and energetic young man was the recipient of the 2013 William E. Foreman Consumer Advocate of the Year Award at this past November's Community Care Services' Awards Banquet. But that doesn't mean his road was easy.

In preschool, his mother, Barbara McDaniel, noticed that he wasn't doing what the other children were doing. "I knew that he understood what I was saying," says his mother, "but he had trouble getting the words to come back out – it was his speech and language that he struggled with." Eventually, McDaniel was told her son had pervasive development disorder NOS, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, oppositional defiant disorder and also autism, and he had to do second grade twice.

Through the school system, McDaniel was connected with therapist Margot Wodkowski (also known as Miss Margot) in May 2010. That relationship led to Samuel joining CCS's Literacy Group in 2011 – for children ages seven through 11 within the CCS system – to provide psychosocial and peer support while motivating them to learn during the regular school year. "Miss Margot...she works magic," explains McDaniel. "She spent a lot of time with Samuel and would meet with him one-on-one. He would just cry if he couldn't see Miss Margot."

*A condition resulting from an error in cell division at conception. Less than 10 percent of Trisomy 18 children survive until their first birthday, with a higher mortality rate for boys. Source: www.trisomy18.org

Samuel then was enrolled in a summer extension of the Literacy Group called Summer Camp. Therapists and the students experience hands-on learning onsite or at various venues that may not always be in the family's budget. "The Summer Camp was wonderful for him. He was experiencing different outings; it's just wonderful, and he would let me know the things that he is doing, and there is not one time that he wanted to miss it," says McDaniel.

This past fall, Samuel returned to school, now placed in a special education class for his exact grade, and his mother saw a change. Where typically Samuel would be screaming and crying about not wanting to go back to school, this year he couldn't wait to get there and McDaniel would find him finishing his homework on the ride home! In addition, Samuel was the first student from a special education class to receive his school's Student of the Month recognition. As McDaniel says, "It's all because of Community Care Services and Miss Margot!" ●

Never Stop Learning

COMMUNITY CARE SERVICES' (CCS) LITERACY GROUP WAS INITIALLY FUNDED BY GRANT DOLLARS TO SUPPORT CHILDREN, AGES 7 – 11, ALREADY IN THE CCS SYSTEM TO PROVIDE PSYCHOSOCIAL AND PEER SUPPORT WHILE MOTIVATING THEM TO LEARN DURING THE REGULAR SCHOOL YEAR.

During the summer months, literacy group kids are invited to attend “summer camp” to continue fostering hands-on learning, teamwork, and positive peer interactions in our offices and within the community. Group participation is capped at 12 for onsite activities, while field trips can accommodate 15. However, there is always a waiting list for camp!

Outcomes for participants in the literacy group/summer camp show positive results. School grades are measured throughout each student’s participation in our program and show that all participants improve their grades and had a positive increase in their ability to socialize with their peers.

Both programs now are completely funded by generous donations which allowed our summer camp participants to experience the thrill of museums, theatres, botanical gardens, factories, farms and enjoy the simple pleasures of magic and puppetry.

Onsite activities were just as “hands-on.” Students created volcanoes and through their own handiwork made them erupt, while also creatively writing about their “volcanic” experience. The class also took common items and witnessed the objects’ various reactions in soda pops, while personalized self-expression was taught through speech and art projects.

This children’s program is always in need of donations, both financial and in-kind, from the communities we serve – financial donations are now easily made through PayPal on our website’s donations page, www.comcareserv.org/donations ●

All participants improved their grades and had a positive increase in their ability to socialize with their peers.

Trauma-Informed Organization

TRAUMA IS A NEAR UNIVERSAL EXPERIENCE OF INDIVIDUALS WITH BEHAVIORAL HEALTH PROBLEMS BASED ON THE RECENT ADVERSE CHILDHOOD EXPERIENCES STUDY CONDUCTED BY THE CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION AND KAISER PERMANENTE.

Community Care Services has joined National Council for Behavioral Health's Trauma-Informed Care Learning Community initiative.

Our organization is now part of a larger Learning Community – organized by the National Council for Community Behavioral Health – made up of 60 other organizations nationwide that are working and learning to improve the way we meet the needs of people with trauma experiences. If we assume that our patients' presenting issues are not related to trauma, then we miss a great opportunity to help. Also, if we assume trauma may be playing a role, then we begin to pay attention to signs of trauma and ask the right questions.

Achievements and Recognitions

NOVEMBER 2012

Community Care Services' First Annual Awards and Recognition Dinner was held on November 1, 2012. Several awards were presented throughout the evening including seven Consumer Advocate of the Year awards, a Consumer Exceptional Success award, two Staff Member of the Year awards, two Board Member Appreciation awards and nine Staff Tenure awards. The event was very successful with more than 200 people in attendance.

JANUARY 2013

Community Care Services was selected by the National Council on Behavioral Health to participate in the Trauma Informed Care Learning Community. Trauma Informed Care is an evidenced-based therapy that involves understanding, recognizing, and responding to the effect of all types of trauma. It emphasizes physical, psychological, and emotional safety for both providers and survivors, and creates opportunities for survivors to rebuild a sense of control and empowerment. CCS continues to promote the use of evidence-based services throughout the agency. (See related story on page 12.)

FEBRUARY 2013

CCS participated in the 2013 Point-In Time Homeless Count. This event occurs every two years and involves volunteers canvassing the community to gather demographic information on the homeless. In exchange for participating in the survey, blankets, bus tickets, breakfast bars, water, hygiene kits, etc., are provided to the homeless individual. If requested, individuals may also be transported to nearby shelters.

MARCH 2013

Pam Stolz and Lynn Turk, WIOP social workers, were featured speakers at the 23rd Michigan Association of Drug Court Professionals Conference in Lansing, Michigan. (Learn more about WIOP on page 9.)

Charley, a member of the Turning Point Clubhouse, was recognized by his employer for 15 years of employment. Congratulations, Charley!

APRIL 2013

The Meaningful Use Electronic Medical Record was implemented on April 8. Meaningful use is a term that comes from the Federal Affordable Care Act and includes requirements for all health care medical records. The goal is to increase efficiency, allow for consumer access and provide a cost savings over time.

MAY 2013

Five staff members participated in Dialectical Behavioral Therapy (DBT) training. DBT differs from traditional Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT) in its emphasis on validation – a powerful tool whereby the therapist and the patient work on “accepting” uncomfortable thoughts, feelings and behaviors rather than struggling with them. Once an identified thought, emotion or behavior has been validated, the process of change no longer appears impossible, and the goals of gradual transformation become reality. The term dialectics refers to the therapist’s goal of establishing a balance between acceptance and change and effectively integrating these two fundamental principles of successful therapy. DBT also focuses on the development of coping skills – specific behavioral techniques used to combat the disabling symptoms of mental illness. Responses from the consumers participating in the DBT program have been powerful.

The spring fundraiser, Saddle Up for Community Care Services, was held on May 16, 2013. Proceeds from the fundraiser were used to fund the children’s summer camp, purchase laptops for the 2013 Supported Education graduates and purchase care packages for consumers of the Homeless Resource Team.

JUNE 2013

Thirty-four students graduated from the Supported Education Program in June and July. In recognition of their accomplishment, each graduate received a new laptop computer. Supported Education is a program that assists adult mental health consumers to achieve their educational and/or vocational goals. The program runs on the campuses of Wayne State University and Wayne County Community College. Consumers go through a structured curriculum which focuses on strengthening their academic abilities, building confidence and assisting with enrollment into post secondary education.

Eight members of the Turning Point Clubhouse received Recovery Recognitions at the Gateway Community Health Annual Awards Luncheon. Congratulations to all! The Clubhouse is a program for mentally ill adults based on the Psychosocial Rehabilitation Clubhouse Model. It stresses skill-building, identifying strengths, and the expectation of recovery and hope. The key element is helping people with mental illness integrate into society by involvement in meaningful work. Members of Turning Point take on the Clubhouse jobs that increase their self-confidence and employable skills.

AUGUST 2013

Close to 100 individuals participated in the Community Job Readiness Event held on August 22, 2013. The day featured The Michigan Works mobile employment RV, assistance with resume development, electronic job searches, completing online job applications, telephone assistance for attendees who qualified and Medicaid application assistance for CCS clients.
